

HANNAH SMITH, BLA Residential Design Consultant

EXPERIENCE

Hannah is in her seventh year with Ed Castro Landscape. After starting out in a designer position with the firm in 2003, Hannah has worked her way up to the consulting level and also holds the position of assistant design studio manager reviewing designs, training, and developing standards for the company. As a residential design consultant, Hannah has worked on design build projects of all sizes and scope. Hannah's portfolio includes a variety of high end residential landscape/ hardscape design and construction packages. She enjoys taking a project from an idea to reality through design and installation management. "The best part of my job is seeing the project evolve and making sure the design intent is met and the Homeowner's expectations are met and exceeded. It never gets boring."
